Profile

James Daniel "Danno" Nell

Unit Stills Photographer

INTRODUCTION

Member of the International Cinematographers Guild Local 600 with current Roster placement.

For over 32 years I have had a camera in my hands. My passion for photography began at the age of 13 when I stepped inside the darkroom to develop my first print. Over the years, I have shot hundreds of thousands of photographs, first on film where I honed my technical skills for capturing the moment then on digital where I explored many different styles and subjects, eventually turning to Unit Still Photography in 2001.

I began working in production in 1999 when I was asked to assist in the production of a small feature film. I fell in love with filmmaking and over the years have brought my time and talent to multiple commercial, short and full length features.
