Over my lifetime I have taken my affinity with film, photography and story telling turning it into a career. Not only have I learned the ins and outs of content creation of all kinds, I have had the ability to work with and build some of the most creative projects, including Professor Of Rock. I am fluent in the adobe suit and have a good eye for color and composition. Being fluent in my speech has taught me to articulate my ideas and make them a reality. Currently I am a brand ambassador for a few select outdoors companies and I am on the board of directors of the Utah Vans Skatepark Committee. I have organized high profile art exhibitions in Utah, interviewed hundreds of people for my publication and organized endless photoshoots.
