BIOGRAPHY

Growing up in the mountains of Alaska, Brittany Mumma developed a passion for adventure early on. After graduating from Boston College, Mumma made the move to commercial film and photography. Twelve years later, Brittany is a National Geographic published photographer, cinematographer and distinguished producer with her photography appearing in national and international publications and her work with brands and television networks delivering high quality content across media platforms globally. Mumma believes in the power of media and the ability to create positive change while delivering messages that are authentic and on target for the brands and clients she works with. Brittany's abilities shine through in difficult environments and has led successful projects with National Geographic, Range Rover, DJI, Vertical Magazine, The North Face, Panerai, Disney, among many more.

BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

TRIAGE CREATIVE | Producer | 2023 - ongoing

Triage Creative exists to tell stories that stand the test of time. We gravitate toward the passionate—the unsung heroes, big-picture thinkers, world-class professionals, and global brands striving to make a difference. Every Triage Creative project starts with a conversation. We're there to listen. Building on our editorial background, our journalistic approach helps us uncover the truth in your story and share it with the world. What sets us apart is our ability to execute seamlessly when serendipity strikes. We not only plan for the unexpected but thrive on those off-script moments that make a story truly unforgettable. It's not just a skill; it's ingrained in our creative DNA.
