
LONNY DANLER - DIT

PROFILE

A Digital Imaging Technician by trade, I've had the good fortune to work with some of the best cinematographers and filmmakers in the industry. Growing up in hotels/motels in rural Americana, I've since traversed the deep jungles and high mountains as an avid outdoorsman, and am equally at home living as a rugged urbanite in the biggest cities around the world. My varied background prepared me to navigate the challenges of production and #setlife. Over time I have gained the trust of countless directors of photography as both a technician who keeps things running smoothly and another set of trained eyes watching his or her back to ensure he/she can pay full attention to the big picture.
