My entertainment career began with two talented writers/directors, Eshom Nelms and Ian Nelms, who initially just needed help with the regional distribution of their film, "Lost on Purpose." My dedication and passion on that project led to working with producer / co-writer Autumn McAlpin on their next feature film "Waffle Street" where I also served as the Extra Casting Director and cast over 800 individuals. 2016 marks my third time working with the Nelms Brothers on their latest film, "Small Town Crime," which boasts an Oscar and Emmy Award-winning cast and where I was also a set photographer.

As the founder of Cineaste Extra Casting and aDAYinPhotography, I combine my work ethics and my natural enthusiasm to observe and help bring to life a filmmaker's vision and story from concept to completion. Cineaste Extra Casting has the drive and experience to help meet all of your background needs. As a photographer for the last 20 years who thrives on continuing education, I am innovative, intuitive, and pay great attention to detail on set as well as behind the scenes. With aDAYinPhotography, I bring a level of professionalism and finely crafted expertise to each production.
